Ayra Sofa

Inspired by the nobility of tribal communities and their profound connection to the earth, Ayra combines structural strength with comfort in a refined sofa designed for outdoor living. The textured metal base with a braided pattern ensures robustness and stability, while the firm-looking upholstery provides exceptional comfort. Crafted with highly resistant materials suited for outdoor conditions, it withstands weather exposure, sunlight, and humidity, ensuring durability without compromising sophistication. It's modular system allows for multiple configurations, including a module with an integrated side table that adds functionality to the sofa's elegant design.
