

Myface Projects

A journey through creative projects

We bring the comfort and sophistication of the indoors to make seasonless and premium outdoor furniture.

Myface invites you to discover an extraordinary fusion of design, where the boundaries between the indoor and outdoor living are beautifully blurred. We truly believe that living spaces should seamlessly merge with the outdoor world, creating environments that are as inviting as they're inspiring. Therefore, our projects are a testament to the fusion of comfort, style, and durability, designed to break the barriers that separate the indoor and outdoor living. Step into a world where the outdoor spaces become an extension of the indoor, and where relaxation and sophistication meet under the open sky.

Mountain House

Lounge and dining areas

Nestled harmoniously within the embrace of majestic mountain peaks, this private residence stands as a testament to modern architectural elegance, seamlessly blending with the serene landscape that surrounds it. From the break of dawn to the gentle descent of dusk, an air of tranquility pervades every corner of this abode. At the rear of the house, a uniquely designed swimming pool graces the landscape, its irregular shape adding an artistic touch to the outdoor oasis. This aquatic haven goes beyond conventional leisure, creating distinct spaces for relaxation and socializing. Multiple lounge areas beckon occupants to unwind, while a dedicated dining space sets the stage for al fresco culinary delights. The vision behind this space is a sanctuary of calm, inviting residents and guests alike to immerse themselves in the panoramic views of snow-clad mountains. As the sun sets, the ambient glow casts a warm hue over the surroundings, enhancing the atmosphere of peace and quiet. The privileged soundtrack is nature's symphony, with the soothing sounds of rustling leaves, distant birdsong, and the distant murmur of a flowing stream. This meticulously crafted environment is a homage to the unhurried enjoyment of life's simple pleasures. It beckons residents to savor the stillness, offering a retreat where time seems to slow down, allowing the beauty of the mountains and the vastness of nature to take center stage in the theater of peaceful living.

Modern Winter Retreat

Lounge, pool, dining and cooking areas

Located in the heart of Tyrol, Austria, this private residence merges with the striking mountain landscape, featuring an architecture that emphasizes large glass surfaces, bringing to life the true balance of the inside-out concept, which is the key focus of the entire project. Perfect integration of architecture with the mountain its modern and minimalist architecture, in shades of gray with wooden details, creates the perfect blend with the natural surroundings, perfectly integrating into the landscape. Not only was the architecture carefully designed to fit the environment, but the outdoor spaces – such as the patio, heated outdoor and indoor pools – were also planned to allow residents to fully enjoy the imposing scenery surrounding the house, even in the heart of winter. Balance between indoor and outdoor spaces the entire project was based on the inside-out concept, ensuring that every part of the house can be enjoyed both during the warmest summer days and the harsh winters in the Tyrolean mountains. Large glass windows enhance this connection, creating a unique experience between the cozy interior and the inviting outdoor spaces, which offer stunning mountain views.

Modern Winter Retreat

Lounge, pool, dining and cooking areas

The terrace is strategically positioned with a view of the mountains and divided into two distinct areas. The lounge area features the comfortable Nomad sofa, designed as a warm extension of the kitchen inside the house. It is furnished with outdoor furniture such as the Senses kitchen and the Mo and Nodo dining set. The pool area includes two Trace sunbeds, Nomad armchairs, and a Sphere fire pit that warms the space with a striking visual impact. At the far end is the Fable hanging sofa, positioned to let residents immerse themselves in the tranquility of the house and its surroundings. Indoor pool with outdoor connection inside, a heated pool is surrounded by panoramic windows, offering an unparalleled sensory experience. These snowy landscapes, combined with the warmth of the cozy interior, dissolve any barriers between the two spaces, creating a perfect connection with nature. The Trace sunbeds, Houdini armchairs, and metallic-accented decor elements give the space the necessary elegance, ensuring a perfect blend of nature and modern design.

Luxury Balcony

Lounge areas

A unique terrace that blends bold design pieces with more minimalist accents, resulting in the perfect meeting of boldness and elegance. In this space dedicated to lounge areas, we find the Nodo collection with its seductive, curved lines and golden metals, granting the space a luxurious yet elegant style. The brown leather and light colors of the accents call for a strong contrast with lacquered and complementary black furniture. The Houdini collection brings a more daring (but necessary) style to this terrace, softened by the choice of neutral colors in the upholstery that promises comfort and beautiful afternoons enjoying a breathtaking view. The differentiating element in the project is the Noori outdoor fireplace, which makes the entire space much cozier and inviting for cooler days and nights. In a simple space, we combine two of our most impactful design collections, resulting in a perfect and unlikely combination.

Front Porch – HBK Interiors, USA

Lounge areas

This project was meticulously crafted with a dual emphasis on both functionality and relaxation. At its heart, the design centers around the lounge, bar, and restaurant areas, where the ambiance is set to provide an unforgettable experience. Notably, the project showcases standout collections like Saccu, Trace, and Ribbon, which are characterized by their seamless fusion of comfort and elegance. These pieces, handpicked for their ability to elevate the atmosphere, create an inviting and upscale setting that beckons guests to unwind and indulge. In addition to these defining elements, modular designs such as the Nomad and Mo sofas were thoughtfully incorporated. These pieces are versatile, allowing for a dynamic layout that lets the space transform to suit different needs and occasions, further enhancing the overall functionality and adaptability of the venue.
